NEVADA,
Friday morn (1.15)

Sweet Sing Rusie:

Just so I can sleep with a quiet conscience I must tell you that I have stru-dled my economies contrary to all rules you have laid down, and offer as the excuse that I wouldn't sleep anyhow. — you didn't kiss me good-bye and to think you are to be gone
three days.

By all means keep trotting around all the time you are away and don't, for heavens sake, retire before 9 A.M. each morning. It will be considered unlawful for you to come home with enough pep to walk up Lake St.

I mention all these things because I know you will do them. We mind each other, so well, don't we?

Look out for your big toe!!!

(Lord have mercy upon us and incline our hearts to keep these laws).

keep these laws).
Good night, sweetheart, and all luck to you. You'll win cause I know you, watch for Rev. kisses as the train left.
X---X---X---X--- Love.
