Rufus dearest,

Can't write much because I've done nothing but sleep since I wrote the last eruption. Maybe somehow you'll get these two together also eh?.

Saw Jack & Eve this a.m. Eve looks fine and fat, and they figure on locating here in six or eight months - Jack to start in contracting. Fine for him I say.

also as part of the morning's work I made a date to try out as a singer of some sort. I'm to be at some certain theater at 7 o'clock tonight to demonstrate the silvery quality of my magnificent voice. This is my first try at the singing game. I can't know why either, because that's my one chestnut as things stand now. Here's how!!!!

Guess I want be one of the crew of the Kroonland. She ~~will~~ sails from S.F. tomorrow, and I haven't heard a word from my "fairy". Well people ~~do~~ manage to live in La., I guess I can. I don't like it so very much, however.

Today the temperature must be at least a hundred, and really I have no clothes designed particularly for that sort of temperature. Ah well - just soon. I'm going after the singing business strong now, 'cause I think I can land in it.

Had to call off a perfectly good dinner engagement, and a pleasant social evening at Hollywood tonight. I guess - business is business but it's a hard rule.

I'm sorry my threats and admonitions disturbed you. but I knew you'd take 'em calmly and sensibly - that's the way you take everything. bless you. Only sometimes you take things too darn calmly i.e. your health - result only 9 toes. It'll be too bad if he chops one of them off, but just you have it done right.

Be's he going now - darling - to start something we know not what. I'll go to see my lawyer ~~for~~ this afternoon, and then I must brush up on some songs for tonight. Boo - bye and with it a great big kiss & a hug -

all yours and for good
