

Ruth Ann Pyle,
629 Lake St.,
Reno,
Nevada.

Tuesday night.

Refulent,

Here I come again. ^{nothing} to answer this 'cause I got no letter today. Tomorrow huh?

Just had a good swim
in the Somerville Y.M.C.A.
Lots of pep. br-r-r-r-r.
Scare you? ?

Boston has only one sky scraper - the U.S. Custom-house. There is a law here that forbids buildings over 110', but a government building doesn't have to be "within the law" and hence isn't. Well - on the Customs House James is a balcony way, way up above the ground, and it used to be that people could go up there to look around.

Then one day some young fellow was careless enough to jump off, and they put a stop to the visits. Today was a beautiful day - clear-and pretty, and just at noon as I looked at the clock on the tower I said careless like - "I'm going up on that tower." of course, they all told me about the fellow jumping off, and that no one was allowed up there etc, etc., but they didn't change my mind.

well I did some tall talking, and wasted a lot of good time in regings but I made ev., ~~and~~ See it was great. Boston Harbor from that height is magnificent with the boats of all sorts, and the islands in the outer harbor. The crossed streets too - I'd never believe it possible for streets to have so many corners - No wonder the fellow jumped off. I staid up for about an hour, and got back to the office a half hour late, but those guys have a certain amount of respect for my persuasive papers now -

In a letter today mother says "Ruth looks Fine!" Ta-ta-ta - there's the words I like to hear.
I'd like to see for myself tho! Bless you, I'd give a awful lot for one look at your old sweet self.

Good night - loving kid - it's now for the big sleep.
It's great living these days.
I feel like a conqueror all the time. The time to get ahead is when you feel the sap flowing in your bones, and believe me I'm making the dust fly. It's for you, too, Sueasy - you and me and our wonderful home -
Love, your
