Tuesday night.

Sneaky Nime,

Better just scribble a line tonight 'cause I've gone past my bedtime. After Spanish I felt like some music, and I knew a couple of fellows were going, so I went to Pops too. I liked it fine ~~too~~, and the old man was liberal with his ~~encours~~ tonight.

Technology is having a big time these days, and because ~~today~~ <sup>large</sup> was the biggest of the week, a ~~big~~ part of S.O.W. were not at the office all day.

We had quite a nice little party in the Stat. Department ~~to~~ I know. Tech has made a wonderful celebration of her moving from Baylestone St to Cambridge - just across the Charles.
There are some 7000 alumni here for the reunion, from all parts of the world, one small item in the order of affairs is a miniature Buck boat the "Buccantans" on which the archives are to be carried across the River. The tub cost $20,000. Pageants, Smokers, Dinners, Dances and every-thing goes.

The buildings were given by some-one who refuses to let his name be known. I think it was $7,000,000 he put into the proposition. It's really big, and Tech is certainly a wonderful school.

Well here we are towards a letter - better quit. and you want some more Pop programs - Here's the page for tonight.

Good-night Sweetheart. Love to you, and a heap a hugs, and a big keg of kisses -
