Dear old Honey Lover -

your letter today struck just my keynote - and gee!
it made me want you so much! So much, in fact, I had to side track on sumthin else. Guess cause, as Doc says, "I was a good old wagon when I started out, but a poor old nutt now,
the path of least resistance would a have to sniffle.
yea, I'm crazy, sweetheart, but nuthin is right without you. Seein' Bob, who had so recently been with you, was next best to seeing you. We had two dances together so we could talk, & in between some dances we talked. Sam, he surely belongs to us & we'll claim him ever!!!

The dance last night I'm ready to say was the cleverest! Cotter was chairman of the Dec. Com. Three of our Freshman served with him. The way they work just revealed to more their real worth. (Isabel & Freda particularly.) Isabel has been going out the last month or so. She & I decided it was the thing for her to do, even in the face of Shorty's objections. Last night she didn't have her ring on, & when I noticed it she said, "It's done for now, Ruth." I'm to see her tomorrow morning at 9:30. The boys are crazy about her here. Shorty worked hard for us & I appreciate, but I want to see her get the best. It's childish of him to care when she goes out with others. Tommy, it's the best proof I know of.

Miss Lissa said this morning before she'd ever say "Goodmorning," Ruth, does Sam approve of you going with Doctor Sweet? and I said sure - you always give your approval before I finally accept. She laughed then, & said so long as I staid in the PO family, she was happy, but there were plenty of holes in disguise under the name of "friend." Oh, I want you Tommy right here now. Course I'd see you every minute no matter what happens. Just because of the H & ex, I hope it'll be the night of the 17th when you come.

Then we'll go to the dance and dance every other dance together (think we won't? it's leap yr. & I'd so 'er!) and the next day I'd get the ex off, and ~~off~~ from the minute the ex is finished, we'll play every minute.

But if you come next week, I'd be just as wild, crazy mad to see you.
Dorothy, our little kingdom is of happiness, no matter what happens now or hereafter. We'll lay strong claim to that. So whenever you come, I'm here wanting waiting for you every minute!

Oh how I want you too!!

Tonight Ed gave Eva two tickets for Alexander & she asked me to go with her.
Eva wants me to ask a question. I know what I'd like to know, "~~will~~ ~~do~~ when will Tom get his appointment at Boston", but I'm going to find out how he bawls a fellow
out. So we'll ask him something different.

Tomorrow - full house!

1.

meet Miss Conde & Miss Bentley on #6. Walk to them until 9:30, in time to see Isabel.
church with some Rowland Hall girls at 11. Write a report for the Sagebrush, mass meeting ^(2:45) at which I'm a ~~see~~ usher all dressed in white, home for a change of clothes & to Vera Hemmon's at 7. Study after that.
I'm gonna write you too some scrap of a minute.

Doc taught me a peach
of a new fox trot & a waltz, which I'll remember until you come. Eva said it looked awful pretty, & it's fun!

Ev in philosophy shews !! the youngest nightmare on the horizon.

now I get dressed so Evie and I can keep our date with Alexander. But I don't want to leave you.
That week with you is gonna be the best we've ever had, come whenever it will !!

Love you so hard, I'll show yuh too!! all your ^xRuss ^x

How many ginks + ginkesses are coming on the train? Ugh!
Cause I wanta meet you at the station. X
