Monday Night.

My Sunday,

Now I can breathe regular sleep regularly and eat regularly 'cause at last you have broken the long silence. And what a letter - full of happiness and achievement, and love for those things you love. I can't help be jealous of ^{11 P.} Sweetheart, but when I think that all she real hard love she is getting now is going to be mine I am happy all over.

Just been to another High School party. They're coming thick and fast these days

Tonights was better however.
You should have heard me play the baritone in the orchestra.
Simply great!

Had my fortune told with cards too. I'm going to get my wish and it was for you and me in So. America pretty soon.
Oh. Tuesday I am wishing for ~~that~~, and especially for you.

Please, oh please stop working so hard. You're going to break down again sure as shooting.
Do you study too? Too much work for one person to be a winer! And you're loving me too - that's what I want more'n anything else.

Good night Sweetie - me for bed.
