Saturday Night 12.45

Sneaky My Sweetheart.

I want you awful bad tonight Sneaky why can't you be here? Seems somehow I need someone bright and cheery to kind o' cheer me up. No I'm not down hearted or anything like that. I've just finished an evening of various events, and I'm tired of things in general, and I want ~~so~~ you to just take me up and straighten me out.

First we had dinner at Dorothy Jergloan's - Three guests with the three Jergloan's. Now the aforesaid D's are rated among the first ten of our fair city and the old man is my big boss - being chairman of the School Trustees. all right - but just because they rank first ten in no reason in the world why they should be interesting. Then we went to the show and then to the airdome, and then coasted down the hill once, and then home.

Sneaky If we could have an evening like that I'd be in the clouds for a week. as it is I'm kinda - dissapointed

I want ye Sunday - and I want you now.
I'll have to be gone - if it means school-teaching to boot.

The cold is pretty nearly all better.
Can't sing tomorrow - but I'll start in at the C.S. Church next Sunday. Every Sunday means $5-.

Dye know what I did - why I stopped in at the School house on my way home so's I ^{can} ~~could~~ mail this letter as I go thru' town. See I wouldn't dare miss on Monday would I? How about you're missing today? You're turn tomorrow (Sunday) so there - '!!!'

One month since I last hit Reno and only two more to go. Excellent and likewise fine I shout. Ah you Spring vacation and Reno Ruth.

So long old Sweetheart Pal, Just you know that I love you with every ounce of me. that I want you all the time and that I'm sending you now a million kisses - x x x x x Lover Tom x x x x x
