Thursday night.

Hello Rufie,

where have you been all this week? I've been looking for a letter every day but none comes.

Until last night we dug trenches and it's hard work. I have two nice blisters on my right hand, but I'm bushier - look out for me. Tomorrow morning we go into the trenches to live till sometime Saturday - It's going to be cold tomorrow night.

Sneaky I'm in the kitchen, or rather the Dining Room, but my session won't be over till Monday see it's shad. and Sunday afternoon we are inoculated.

This weekend will sure be banged to pieces. Send your phone number as soon as you can so I can keep in touch with you then.

Haven't had a chance to get the pictures yet but will by Saturday.

So's night - Sweetie - write now
