.25 Got to sleep -

.30 alarm went off.

5.30 arose, awake, took swim, made breakfast, ate
it, ~~swam~~ paddled abe a - cross the lake, went to the station.

nobody out of the Rockies slept last night because it was the hottest in a good many years. I should worry!!!

cleaned house this
morning - see it looks swell.
Then I swam, and I was ready for a ~~sp.~~ days loaf.
Found the coziest hills

shady spot away around on the other side of the lake, and there I smoked and read - and after a while slept a bit. Now it's nearly time to go into the junction to meet the fellows - get a letter from you (? please) and then after that a swim and supper.

Gosh it's hot but I should care the water is cool.

I thought a lot of you and our little home today, Sweetheart,

These wonderful surroundings just make a fellow dream the prettiest dreams in the world. If we could only have our honeymoon here - we could start out right. Just the same we'll start ^{the} out right, and soon too, Hannah!

Say when I shaved today I missed my upper lip. wonder what it will look like by church time Sunday.

I'm writing this on the hom-

mock - you'll excuse eh?

So long - Sweetheart. I want a letter tonight, sure enough, because with all this talking I've been doing I want an answer. It won't seem like home if you don't jaw me a bit - Ugh!!!

Aw right here's a big, big, loving all for your very own lips, and a squeeze to set you ~~wild~~ wild.
