

Don P. Walker
2nd Lt. Sig. C.
2nd Fld. Bu. S.C.
A.E.F.

Mrs. Don P. Walker,
506 W. 113th St.,
New York,
N.Y.,
U.S.A.

Don P. Walker
2nd Lt. Sig. C.
2nd Fld. Bu. S.C.
A.E.F.

June 19, 1918

Hello Kiddie,

See I'm coming every day now just to placate you for all that science. Poor little Sweetheart - I's bet you worried, and worried - and here I was having a good old time all through it. wonder if the cable gram helped any.

I had a card from Ruff Ogilvie and just bundled it up. I'll send it any way 'cause maybe you'll want to know how good you look to him. and he reminds you so much of me, and he was so good to you - and you liked him so much. By golly he made me awful jealous once 'members? But I laugh at 'em all now. Gosh who would want a girl that no one else wanted? The more competition the more worth while - and I've had no bed of roses - yes or no? Bless your old heart, if I hadn't taken you to raise when you were awful young - and blusky and every thing - maybe it would have been a different story. But isn't it lots of fun to think about - all those Reno Power days - and then when I was at the U and you at R.P. and meeting the boat at Frisco - and best of all those days, when just after a certain Junior Prom - I visited you one evening, and left for Fairview the next morning - and then had to wait at Fallon. (And now I picture you - yes - and then and then - ———) But it's lots of fun, Sweetheart.

It was kind o' rainy this a.m. - and now every thing is cleaned up spick and span except the mud - that's muddy. But the sky - Ohm. m. m. the prettiest - bluest blue you ever saw, and the most beautiful - most white clouds painted all over it - and the sun playing tricks all over - It's really a poem.

Now I've said, hello to you - haven't I - we've just had the nicest chat - now let's be foolish - I'll just kind. o' kiss you a little bit - and shyly hug you - and then I'll love you so awful hard you'll cry for help. It's all here and all for my breaky. Slows

x x x x x ^{x x x} Loves You ^{x x x x}

Reply to

Div E

see 64

Refuge Ogilvie
S.A.S. A.P.O. 118

~~Camp Jackson~~

~~R.O.T.C.~~

~~Via~~

American Expeditionary Force, France

POST-CARD

Tom P Walker

2nd Lt. Sig Res. Corps.

2nd Field Battalion

Signal Corps

Co. B

Ex. Force.

France.

AMERICAN

On Active Service

WITH THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE

Johnny, Here at last and quite at home. Saw Ruth in N.Y. she is looking fine hope I can see you some one of these fine days and tell you how fine she is really looking better than she ever did back at school, having a husband. Grace seems to agree. ^P Congratulations old man tho a little late. If you know of any other of the fellows organizations give me this address if you will I mean organization.