Thursday night.

Sweetheart mine, at the office finishing up some dope on the Bogie to take in to Sperry in the morning- and I think this will finish the arguments on it leaving only the finishing up to do. I'll be glad tho.

It's snowing quite hard after a very cold day. It was 14 at Willdale this morning and as low as 8 at other places but coming as it did it felt worse. The weather man promises to finish off with rain which will make a nice mess of things. Last

Had quite a fight with Ann last night to keep her covered. When I wrapped her up like a mummy she cried where I had to wheel her into our room where I petted her in my sleep till she went to bed tonight when I put her to bed I slept her again, and she was so sleepy she only cried about five minutes.
She's sure wrapped to the chin now.
