Thursday evening.

fine stuff giving
mother
and Dad
our love
all the time aren't you?

Sweet wife of mine.

One letter from you since a week ago today. If none comes tomorrow a night letter goes off to you - This suspense is terrible - oh, I know it's not your fault, but that doesn't help an awful lot. And every day people ask about you and I can't give them any answers.
Maybe some of them think you've left your family and gone back to Reno. Fat chance! We'll show 'em won't we.

Here's the the Gazette's account of the minister show and also a statement the Gazette asked some Legion official to make concerning a line of stuff from National Commander Dowsley.

If you can dope out what it means you'll do well.

going to 3 all Pines first thing in the morning to look over their new plant with the Guild of Gas managers. They're having a three day open house down there. Billy Bell went yesterday and had a good time.

It's been snowing nearly all day today and Betty was out in her first snow storm. How she did enjoy it - my! what a wonderful time she had. When she left the house she went to Sister and said - "now Sister, you be a good good girl". Just like her Daddy.
In the bath room the other day nanny was combing her hair and she turned her around to get at the other side. Eva said "oh a merry-go-round" and Betty pops up - "no a Betty-go-round".
But Ann beats everything with her squeaking and her pep-the fattest, rouiest, screechiest, pepiest kid you ever heard of.

There's going to be lots of fun at the Christmas party.
Schell has taken quite an interest in it, and he's going to help out a great deal. He was going to Fall River with me tomorrow but gave the party as an excuse not to go - I ~~say~~ suspect some thing he had something to do with it. By the way Louise still paints a little and she doesn't buckle her overshoes. Oh me!

Kin I go now? and will you write soon? Sure you write every day, but oh how we'd like to get the letters. I know now how you felt while I was hunting. I'm loving you tho' more and more and wanting you a lot.
Kisses all around + Louise xx
