Sweet Rufus.

Our trip to Atlanta yesterday had to be called off because the Ventura developed an oil leak and Bob wouldn't take off - as he should not take off. It was no simple matter either, because we were to stop for passengers at Danville, Va. and Charlotte, N.C. on the way down and others were going from Columbia S.C. and Baton Rouge. We got them all stopped but one. Now we start all over again.

next week. we made the day pay here however.

Today Dick Canner, Clyde Jim and I played golf at Burning Tree. And we had much fun. Geo. Malone was bawled over when he saw
me. we had quite a chat and he was interested that you were with Eva & George.
He knew we had moved to Houston. He was having lunch with V.P. Nixon
when I first saw him
and he introduced me.

The president played today with Omar Bradley.
It was fun being there saw Jim Olyphant and several other war time friends.

On the way out we went past Hampden Lane
and it is beautiful. Akers was mowing the back lawn. The dogwood is in full (and I mean extra full) bloom - the flowering trees are gorgeous - even some of the cherry trees still are ablaze.

Burning Tree was especially attractive. I'm getting used to the idea of joining again. Gosh - what a lot of clubs we'll have - only this one is not for you.

Enclosed a nice letter from Annie. I've had some nice ones from you too - my sweet, and your wire this morning from S.D. just as we started out for B.T.

Don't know what your impressions will be from the enclosed card from Hall's. The dinner was a scream because it took us 3 hours. But it was fun.

I'll write to Dugway about our Lake Placid deal. we are due there on the 13th of May. If you don't leave Etah till the 17th I'll go to L.P. and be back in Houston about the time you are. That's all assuming things here ~~at~~ are at a place where I can get away.

wish I could drop in on all of you. I'd like to yak - yak with you. and besides I'm getting tired of not having a wife by my side. But it will all come out in the wash. Love to all of you - FT XXXX
