Montabaut -

Mar. 17, 1919.

Sneaky Mine.

I'm going to give you h - well I've got to give someone that - and I know it's not your fault but you're going to get it. Today a weeks accumulation of mail from the States arrived - some of it dated Feb. 23.rd and I didn't get a single letter - nor a married one either. Now what do you know about that? Did you go and do something? Just think of me a poor lonely soldier boy - fighting for his country and all the honor of the battlefield, and then you wouldn't write to him!!! Just think!!! - (sigh) are you getting a divorce and don't want me to know it? I am prostrate. Oh well they'll come tomorrow - but it was tough to see every body with a first full of mail, and me with none.
Woe is me. Tomorrow I'll eat pork.

Well I'm busy getting my company ready for an inspection by Gen. Pershing Friday afternoon.
The Battalion is to the two companies, and I'm to have one of them - all signal men are on special duty - so we've called 'em in - teamsters - telephone operators - linemen - chauffeurs -

Kitchen Police and orderlies, and with these we're going to pass in review before Gen. Pershing. One thing - they're all the highest class of men - handpicked - so to speak - and they do very well indeed.

Say Kiddie today was one bee-utiful day - just wonderful. An hours ride this morning was the best yet. Uh - m it was fine - and the country about here is magnificent. Oh I've been finding a bit of fun for ourselves, but we all want to come home. This Division is now scheduled for July. That isn't so aweful bad - and I may not have to wait that long - only I'd rather come home with the 1st if it didn't make more than one months difference. I like this yere outfit -

Doe and I haven't had our pictures taken yet, but we will some day sure enough - then you'll be all the gladder. Huh ?!!

Now I'm going to write a bit of history - no it isn't finished yet. I've been loafing on the job.

Love you lots - Kiddie mine - please take care of yourself - rest and every thing, and go down and live with Eva please - you'd like it. So long - kisses a whole lot - and hugs a plenty -
