Miss Ruth Pyle.

Asilomar,

% yw. ca. Conference. Cal.

Thurs. Eve.

Sneaky Lane: -

Staid home tonight 'cause I was very tired. Have started 'The Rosary', and now threaten to lie abed all night to finish it. That's the single reason I never read novels. I read "He Comes Up Smiling" the day I staid home for the Sumburn, and never put the book down while I read it. See?

The evening Herald offers a ticket to the show, for anyone who will arrange the numbers from 1 to 16 in a square so they add up to 34 all possible ways. Miss M. has tackled the job and will be up all night with it I know. I figured first that there were $2 \times 3 \times 4 \times 5 \times 6 \times 7 \dots \times 14 \times 15 \times 16$ possible positions for the numbers and that one position only would satisfy - then I quit. A fellow would have to think an awful of the ~~Harvard~~ Herald to tackle a job like that. It would make a good stunt for Moul.

I have an engagement with another lawyer tomorrow at 12:15. Here's for results.

Am sending this letter to Aschman - Let me know if you don't get it.

You can't fool me with any life sized portraits of our friend (2) cause I saw 'em coming. There's none due to morrow hour - I mean unless you leave good old Reno before it arrives. He's hoping you can't for then you may be justly peeved.

Expect a letter from Donopah soon, and may then be able to announce my program. Don't raise too many hopes, for my plans and wishes all have huge strings on them.

Here's some love honey - I go now. Sunday's my big day to write to you - weekdays bring only snatches - but with the snatches go a heap of Love and loads of big and pretty thoughts. I'm brooding for you at Asilomar, and a prayin' that you make a hit there, and likewise receive some good. That your mother comes also. I think. Our Mothers will have a wonderful time together.

Good-night Sweetie. Here's my love and an extra allowance of kisses and hugs.
